DIRECTIONS & INFORMATION

The largest lake in south-west England Chew Valley Lake was created in the 1950s to supply water for Bristol. In the half century since 1200-acre lake was created, it has acquired such importance for its natural history that it has been designated as a Site of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI). Look out for waterfowl including snipe (common and jack snipe), lapwing, widgeon, mallard, tufted duck, goldeneye, coot and moorhen.

In the field keep the hedge on your right until you reach a metal gate, then head diagonally right across the field to a wooden kissing gate in the middle of the opposite boundary. Go through the gate, cross the stream and follow the path to the right of the pond and then ahead to go through a metal gate. Continue ahead, passing a bend in the River Chew on your right, and cross a wooden footbridge. Continue straight ahead through a long field to a footbridge and stile onto a lane.

After the bridge bear right to go through a kissing gate, then turn right through a metal gate and go straight ahead diagonally across a field. Just before the corner cross a stile and footbridge on the right then turn left and keep to the field edge.

(7) Cross a stone stile and bear left to the bottom left corner of the field then cross a stile and continue ahead along a narrow strip of land, then downhill to cross a stream and a stone stile. Continue ahead through the middle of a field, part way along continue ahead following a footpath waymarker on your right then turn right through a small metal gate. Cross a footbridge and turn left to follow a path through a field then through a kissing gate and past a play area on your right then along a narrow path between buildings to join the road.

Turn right along the road, then right again onto the main road crossing the road joining from the right and go straight ahead along Whistley Lane, then left through a metal gate onto a footpath (9). Bear right across the field, go through a kissing gate and over a footbridge then continue ahead with the hedge on your left. Go through a kissing gate and bear left onto a track between hedges. At a metal gate bear left along the track with the hedge on your left. Just after the power lines leave the track and follow the waymarked footpath ahead through 4 fields and onto the lane.

(10) Turn left along the lane, cross the road and turn left back to the layby.
